You will be provided with a day room at the Hotel and you will have a day and evening in Manaus for relaxing. enjoy great Brazilian restaurants. Late evening, transfer to airport. Depart Ma-naus via International flight for home.

WHAT NOT TO BRING - Strict weight limits are in effect on charter flights (see the "Getting to the Fishery" section). As a result, we have undertaken a range of steps to help lighten your baggage load.

1. Don't overpack. We provide daily laundry service
2. We provide a full suite of conventional (spinning and baitcasting) rods, reels, lines and lures.
3. Our guides are equipped with all necessary fishing and fish handling tools
4. We provide all sinkers and weights on site, wherever necessary.
5. We provide sheets, pillows, soap and towels.
6. We provide a full range of beverages, wines, beers and liquors, on-site.

WHAT TO BRING - There are certain things we don't or can't provide. We'll outline a few here:

1. You must bring your own clothing, medications, personal items, toiletries, shoes, travel items etc. outlined in detail in your checklist.
2. You should bring a credit card for hotel check-in and purchases, restaurants or sightseeing in Manaus.

You probably will have no need to exchange money if you use your card and you'll get a fairer exchange rate.

3. Although we provide all of the lures necessary for successful peacock bass fishing, you must bring any lures not listed in our recommendations if you wish to use them. We are unable to obtain these items in Brazil.

HOTEL IN MANAUS

1. Check in - The hotel is aware of the makeup of each of our groups, the identity of each angler and will have the appropriate number of rooms reserved. You must submit the hotel registration form included in your reservation package to our offices on a timely basis prior to your departure in order to ensure fast and efficient check-in. Each room assignment requires presentation of a valid credit card at check-in.

2. Extras Hotels provide services and extras for their guests, such as mini-bars, room service, restaurants and a lobby bar. Charges for these services will be assigned to the credit card presented upon check-in.

3. Check out Anglers must complete check-out before leaving the hotel.
